

DEC -1 1916

UNIVERSAL SCREEN MAGAZINE

ISSUE No. 2. ✓

Released Dec. 8.

The first article in the Universal Screen Magazine is about the old horses that are used in the making of valuable serums. These animals are of no use in the doing of work, but are inoculated with diseases and then make serums which save thousands of lives and are worth thousands of dollars. One "worthless" horse has produced, since 1911, $185,000.00 worth of serum.

The next article is on the boy scouts' work. It shows how the lore of the woods is taught and how it is practiced by the disciples of Ernest Thompson Seton.

The building of a portable house is shown. This is a way that the summer hotel bills can be saved.

Then the many labor-saving devices that have been invented for the housewife are shown. Housekeeping is not as strenuous as it used to be in the old days. There are electric percolators, cream whippers, silver polishers, meat choppers and dish washers.

Then as a closing feature Willie Hopkins, the world-renowned sculptor, is shown in some of his wonderful animated sculpture.

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress